DRAFT CALLS IN STATE TO SUMMON 7,260

Salem Will Furnish Total Of 36 Men In Early October Quota

LISBON TO PROVIDE 38; E. LIVERPOOL, 16

Selective Service Officials Make No Explanation On Heavy Requisition

State Selective Service officials today called for about 7,260 men for induction next month—second largest draft order for Ohio under the military training act.

The state's 330 draft boards were instructed to furnish 7,000 white men for induction between Oct. 6-29 and 260 Negroes between Oct. 8-28.

Columbiana county draft boards received unusually large draft calls. Salem was assigned a quota of 36 men, Lisbon a total of 38, and East Liverpool 16.

The men will leave on or about Oct. 6.

No Explanation Made

Maj. Carl Wahl, state classification chief, said there was no explanation from national headquarters for the heavy requisition of men, but the order came as the army began releasing from training men past 28 years of age.

The biggest induction since draft calls began last November was in January when nearly 10,000 men were called. Most of them were assigned to Camp Shelby, Miss., to bring Ohio's 37th (national guard) division to war strength.

There was no indication where the 7,260 would be assigned.

Ohio's current quota for providing men in the Army is 121,392. Up to Tuesday, 43,733 were drafted and the state received credit for 47,147 who volunteered or enlisted in the Army.

That left a quota of 30,512 yet to be filled by Ohio, but Selective Service officials pointed out that quotas were flexible and that no definite date for filling it had been set.

Two new volunteers will head the list of 38 Lisbon men ordered to report in the 28th draft call. The volunteers are Ray Lysle and James H. Halfhill of Wellsview.

They were among 50 Lisbon men who are already classified in 1-A.

PRESIDENT SCANS TAX BILL FIGURES

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 19.—President Roosevelt said at his press conference today that he did not know exactly when he would sign the nation's biggest tax bill, a $3,553,400,000 measure which he brought with him from Washington.

The President, who arrived this morning for a short stay at his ancestral home, said he thought 48 hours was not too long to study the bill and said that holding it up a day or so would not cost the government anything.

Mr. Roosevelt began the conference by asserting that he had no new today, and for the first time in months his press conference failed to produce a single important story.

NEUTRALITY ACT IS TOPIC

Repeal Could Win In Senate By Dozen Votes, Opponent Concedes

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—A leading opposition strategist conceded today the administration could win senate approval—by the margin of a dozen votes—if it sought outright repeal of the neutrality act in furtherance of its program of aiding Britain.

Pointing out that any such proposal was likely to provoke heated and lengthy debate in both houses, this legislator said an informal count of noses indicated senatorial opponents of repeal could muster no more than 7 votes, 12 short of a majority.

He declined, however, to speculate on the outcome in the house. Some observers have said that the division of opinion there is sharp and much in doubt, although the action of the American Legion this week in urging outright repeal of the law was expected to have some effect.

This evident uncertainty, as well as the prospect of a long argument on all of the aspects of the act, has caused administration leaders to consider seeking only partial revision of the law to permit the arming of American merchant ships plying in the "defense waters" from which President Roosevelt has ordered the Navy to clear Axis warcraft.

A proposal of the nature would leave temporarily undisturbed the law's other major prohibition against American vessels carrying war supplies directly to belligerent ports, but Senator LaFollette (Progressive), one of the senate's so-called non-intervention bloc, said the two issues ought to be joined if Congress was to pass on them.

In any event, LaFollette told reporters, there was certain to be full discussion of the moves already made by the administration.

"According to the President's own definition of convoys," he declared, "he has ordered the American Navy into a shooting war. He has taken this drastic action without the approval or consent of Congress, which under the Constitution, has sole power to declare war."

Matthews Will Discuss Ohio At Phalanx Dinner

"Beautiful Ohio" will be the topic of W. H. Matthews, local orator, when he addresses the Phalanx state convention banquet at the Hotel Lape Saturday night. Matthews heads a panel of prominent leaders who will address the convocation.

Included on the speaker's list are Joe M. Kelley, city recreation director, Mayor Norman Phillips, and Jerald Segree, state Phalanx president.

The Phalanx convention committee today issued an appeal for rooms for the overflow crowd expected here this weekend. Tourist homes with available quarters are asked to call 4797.

ROOSEVELT TURNS DOWN BID OF ARMY

Plan Would Have Placed Military Heads in Defense Board Control

ADMINISTRATION LEFT TO CIVILIANS

Disclosure of Conflict Followed President's Executive Order Sept. 15

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—President Roosevelt, informed quarters reported today, has rejected proposals that would have placed a greater degree of control over defense industry in military, instead of civilian hands.

Refusing recommendations designed to extend the army's authority, Mr. Roosevelt took action to insure that the civilian-dominated governmental agencies administer measures affecting the supply of raw materials, priorities, production and export control.

The President's decision was the major development to date in what was described as a long and spirited behind-the-scenes battle for control of defense production and regulation of export trade.

Disclosure of the conflict followed the President's executive order of Sept. 15 which transferred the export control administration to the economic defense board headed by Vice President Wallace.

Subordinate Division

But that order the President not only transferred the hitherto separate, army-controlled export control administration to the vice president's board, but reduced it to a subordinate division which will be headed by a civilian, Milo Perkins, former head of the Commodity Credit corporation.

At the same time Brig. Gen. Russell L. Maxwell, who has acted as administrator of export control since the office was organized July 2, 1940, was relieved of that assignment.

In the behind-the-scenes conflict, informed sources said, members of one faction described the others as "New Dealers" and were, in turn, called "army bureaucrats."

The so-called "New Dealers" charged the "army bureaucrats" had ambitious plans which would expand and extend the export control administration's powers until it would be in control of the major part of defense industries.

SAYS WAR FRONT SOON TO CHANGE

War Secretary Claims Hostilities Will Spread To Mediterranean

(By Associated Press)

JACKSON, Mich., Sept. 19.—John J. McCloy, assistant secretary of war, declared here today that the Germans have 300 divisions totaling nine to 10 million men under arms and that perhaps 100 of these are yet to be thrown in the battle of Russia.

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the Michigan Bar association, the War department official also said it was probable that hostilities would spread to the Mediterranean area, Spain and North and West Africa.

Today, he asserted, the war's "hottest flame is burning before Leningrad and the rich Donetz basin of Russia, but tomorrow you may almost be sure that it will be flaring up in the Mediterranean. In Spain and in North and West Africa."

McCloy's figures on German strength apparently represented the latest estimates made with full weight given to losses in the Russian campaign and compared with earlier estimates of 240 Nazi divisions and with Russian reports that the Germans were being compelled to call in divisions from occupied countries all over Europe.

Deputy Probes Theft

Aurora Borealis Lights Up Skies In Unusual Splendor

Thousands of persons here and elsewhere in Ohio were treated last night to an aurora borealis of awe-inspiring brilliance.

Astronomers were unanimous in describing the bright lights as one of the best exhibition ever seen in Ohio.

Originating in the north and extending long fingers into the south, the display reached its peak in brilliance between 7:30 and 8 p. m. and was clearly visible in all sections of the state. Highways were lined with automobiles as motorists stopped to witness the unusual spectacle.

Dr. J. J. Massau of Case School of Applied Science in Cleveland attributed the lights to sun spots observed during the day.

"The lights probably were 100 miles above us," he said. "They were caused by the unusual radiation from the sun which excited the 'ions of the earth's rare air'."

He said maximum sun spots and display of the aurora borealis should have occurred in 1938 according to previous calculations, "but this beats anything we saw then."

The magnetic storm accompanying the lights disrupted and telegraph communications temporarily and newspaper teletype machines delivered copy garbled like this:

?) qpxwlg ozk$ 12x prml45.

The New York weather bureau said the display, ranging from red to purple to green and blue, was seen as far south as Virginia and Atlanta.

The disturbance to communication lines was felt in the United States as far west as Albuquerque, N. M. Telegraph companies reported their worst difficulties in an area north of the Ohio river and east of the Mississippi.

London reported communication in all parts of the world was away, Australia being cut off from the island for long stretches and cables to America being messed up. The Rome, Berlin and Moscow radios, usually heard clearly in London, failed to come through.

Nitro Glycerine Blast At Bradford Kills Two

BRADFORD, Pa., Sept. 19.—A truck loaded with nitro glycerine exploded on a highway today, killing the unidentified truck occupant and J. Clifford Martin, executive secretary of the Bradford district Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil association.

Martin and a companion, Clarendon Streeter, one of the largest producers in the district oil fields, were following the truck along the highway from this northwestern Pennsylvania oil center. Streeter was gravely injured.

The blast ripped the truck and its driver to bits, scattering debris over a wide area. Early arrivals on the scene said they found no pieces of the truck large enough to establish identification of the machine or its driver. It was known only that the truck bore a New York state license.

113 DIE AFTER OUTBREAKS IN AXIS REGIONS

Bombs and Gunfire, Reprisal Actions this Week Are Responsible

PARIS IS AFFECTED BY GERMAN CURFEW

Terrorism Also Reported In Far East Where Explosions Kill 30

(By Associated Press)

Bombs and gunfire in rebellious outbreaks in Axis-conquered lands and the answers of firing squads have taken the lives of at least 113 persons, wounded 71, and resulted in sweeping arrests of uncounted hundreds within a week.

In Paris the situation was so grave the Germans ordered a curfew imposed for three nights in the Seine department, whose chief city is Paris, and warned that the violators would be arrested and held as hostages.

Two days ago the German military command warned that an increasing number of hostages would be shot in any future attacks on Germans and that they would be drawn from all classes.

"I will no longer allow the lives of German soldiers to be threatened by murderers," said Col.-Gen. Heinrich Von Stulpnagel, the German commander of the occupation forces, as the latest restrictive measure, the curfew, was announced.

Frenchmen Executed

Already 13 Frenchmen have died by the firing squad in retaliation for attacks on German soldiers. Ten of them were shot this week.

Bombings and gunfire marked the continued resistance of Serbs in the mountain hamlets of Yugoslavia.

An explosion in Zagreb, Croatia, central telephone exchange last Sunday wounded at least 12 German soldiers. In another section of that city Croats were attacked by four gunmen. The four were reported captured, and one of them, still clutching a hand grenade, was shot dead and lying in the street as a warning.

At Sarajevo 61 Serbs were reported executed for such offenses as firing on military patrols.

The Sarajevo-Brod railway was blown by saboteurs, and two bombs tossed at a bus wounded two German soldiers.

EX-SLOTS FIGURE FREED BY STATE

COLUMBUS, Sept. 19.—William Peer, 61, former slot machine operator convicted of bribing a Lorain county sheriff, was freed from Lorain prison farm 27 days before he was due for release on parole, it was disclosed today, and made a study under the personal supervision of Welfare Director Charles Sherwood.

Although records of the Ohio pardon and parole commission showed Peer was scheduled for release Oct. 11, Supt. W. F. Amrine of the prison farm said he was freed Sept. 15 at the personal request of Director Sherwood.

The welfare director asserted that Peer was on a "trustworthy assignment" and that he was "beneficial to his health" but declined to elaborate. He told newspapermen that Peer was still a ward of the state and that he was somewhere in Franklin county.

Peer was one of four men convicted in 1939 of giving bribes to William Grall, Lorain county sheriff, for the right to operate gambling devices in the county. Grall was convicted of accepting bribes and is scheduled for parole release later this year.

UKRAINE CITY TAKEN, HITLER COMMAND SAYS

Swastika Reported Flying Over Russia's 3rd Largest Community

FOUR RED ARMIES REPORTED TRAPPED

Germans Also Report Naval Base Guns, Near Leningrad, Silenced

(By Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler's high command reported today that German troops have entered Kiev, the Ukraine capital and Russia's third greatest city, while other Nazi forces have trapped four Russian armies and stormed within 80 miles of Kharkov.

The swastika flag is waving over the Kiev citadel, the Nazi high command said, announcing the capture less than 12 hours after the Russians officially acknowledged that German troops had reached one of Kiev's gates.

The city, with a population of more than 850,000, had been under siege for two months.

New Threats Seen

Grave new threats also imperiled Russia's second biggest city, Leningrad, with the Germans reporting that the guns of the mighty Kronstadt naval base, 20 miles west of Leningrad, had been silenced.

In the drive toward Kharkov, Hitler's high command reported, Nazi troops captured the key rail town of Poltava, 200 miles east of Kiev and 65 miles east of the Dniester river.

Kharkov is the chief industrial city of the Donets river basin. Nazi dispatches indicated that the resistance of Marshal Semyon Budenny's Ukraine armies was crumbling, with German columns reaching the blitz tempo which marked their lightning smashes through Belgium, Holland and France last year.

Amid this desperate plight of the Red defenders, the head of Russia's Mohammedan administration appealed to the world's 235,000,000 Mohammedans to rise "in the name of Islam" against the "devastation of Fascism."

The trapped Red armies, unofficially estimated at 500,000 troops, were reported caught in a steel ring 125 miles east of Kiev.

Their annihilation is now in progress, "the German high command said.

Simultaneously, grave new threats imperiled Kiev itself and the great northern metropolis of Leningrad.

GOING TO THE BACK DOOR

A speculative story in the New York Times reports the probability of a financial handout to Russia at the back door to sidestep complications that would ensue if Joseph Stalin were recognized at the front door. Instead of cutting in the Russians on the lease-lend act, in other words, the United States would advance money to them from Reconstruction Finance corporation funds. This could be done on the initiative of Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, thereby short-circuiting congress, where serious opposition might develop.

It would be a tacit admission that, as far as the United States is concerned, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is too strange a bedfellow in the struggle to step dictatorial aggression to be taken under the covers openly. This probably wouldn't offend the sensibilities of Russians nearly so much as it would nibble at the conscience of Americans, who continue to wonder what there is to choose between red and brown dictatorship in the long run. They continue to wonder, also, what ultimate difference there might be between helping Russia to thwart Germany and the policy that Great Britain pursued at one time of helping Germany to thwart Russia. In short, it would take something more than the financial acumen of Mr. Jones as loan administrator to sell the American public on the advisability of doing covertly what the government that Mr. Jones work for doesn't want to try to do openly.

TECHNIQUE OF UNDECLARED WAR

It is beginning to dawn on even the sleepheads that the United States is fighting an undeclared war. But something else is dawning on them too.

Their government has permitted public opinion to lag dangerously far behind official policy. Perhaps it hasn't been able to do anything about the lag, but there's no solace in that.

Part of the technique of undeclared war as practiced by the dictatorships is preparation of the popular mind to accept the "fait accompli." It is possible for listeners to foreign radio broadcasts to know in advance what the dictatorships plan to do, because their aggressions invariably are preceded by an interval of inflammatory propaganda against the next victim.

This has not been done in the United States. It would be impossible in this country, where judgment of the war and foreign policy is based on objective truth and tempered by the privilege of listening to oratorical pleas from both sides and choosing between them.

Americans are no more excited about Germany now than they were a year ago or two years ago—and probably less excited than they were three, four and five years ago when the nature of the Hitler dictatorship first became plain. They are able to think dispassionately about the consequences of war, either declared or undeclared, and now, realizing the country is engaged in an undeclared war, they're in no mood for war-whooping.

Uppermost in their minds is the thought that it is a very dangerous thing to let too much slack develop in the contact between government and popular opinion. It makes for awkward handling of the problem of national unity. The Roosevelt administration is going to need all the adroitness it is famous for at its best when the people wake up one morning to the thumping fact that United States participation in war is no longer an academic discussion but a reality.

THE GREAT DISILLUSIONMENT

The psychological factor, as important in Germany's war effort as material itself, is getting a hard jolt in France. If previous reports have been correct, it won't be easy for Hitler's warriors to accept the fact they aren't being welcomed with open arms; that they are hated, ridiculed and sniped at. This won't fit in with their concept of going forth to give the world what it wanted; i. e., Hitlerism.

All observers of the German army in action have spoken of its crusading zeal. German soldiers have been described as fanatics convinced it is their mission to save the world from the evils that beset it. They are as enthusiastic about what they are doing, apparently, as United States doughboys were when they in 1918. In this war, it must be noted, the world is thought they were making world safe for democracy—not being made safe for democracy; this war is to keep dictatorships from making the world unsafe for the democracies. There is no crusade this time, just a gritty struggle for survival.

The German boys will be heartsick when they learn that Hitlerism is not accepted in the lands to which they have carried it, but resisted. It will be, perhaps, the first step in the education all German boys must be given before the piece of unfinished business they are engaged in can be called finished.

ONLY THE BEGINNING

Most important thing about the new tax bill at the outset is the prospect for still higher taxes next year. No matter how rapidly the federal government succeeds in boosting its income, it will continue to lose ground against expenditures. The same day a measure to raise 3½ billion becomes law, congress hears a request for a new appropriation of almost 6 billion to supplement the original 7 billion in the lend-lease act and the senate finance committee chairman says publicly that new sources of revenue must be found.

Yet all Americans must be impressed deeply by the fact that their financial structure is more resilient and possesses greater resources than the structures of any of the other great powers. What is happening to their cash and reserves has far more bearing on the outcome of the war than their successes and failures day by day on land and sea and in the air. The financial repercussions of the war will rumble down through the decades and centuries to come—long after the guns and bombs have been forgotten.

Among licenses lately suspended is one, in New England, of a motorist who drove 100 yards through traffic while kissing the girl friend.—Boston Globe.

LIVELY and interesting conditions should prevail this day, with many important developments along expensive and progressive lines. This in connection with finance, credits, big business, travel, communications, promotion, writings, publishing and agencies. Corporations of magnitude may offer opportunity.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of large opportunity for success, accumulation, expansion and growth, with openings with large corporations, political or fraternal bodies, although these are beset with dangers and defeat, loss or litigation, because of over-optimism, extravagance, unwarranted outlay or expenditures, as well as personal indulgences or excesses. All this applies to business and social, domestic and affectional matters, and suggests rigid restraints and moderation.

HEREDITY FACTOR IN OBESITY, LEANNESS

Body Build of Adults Rarely Varies in Middle Life

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

From Dr. Hugo R. Rony's recently published book called Obesity and Leanness we make the following abstracts. The book contains much new information that should be of tremendous interest to the public.

"Of one thousand Americans, about 500 are medium weight, 330 are overweight and 170 are underweight."

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

weight or underweight and vice versa.

"Most adults maintain their weight at practically the same level without paying any attention to it. Indeed, it is not so difficult to understand why people grow fat as it is to explain why most of us do not do likewise."

"Possibility of Gaining." "It is possible to gain in time much weight on very little daily extra food intake or extra rest. Thus, if you add to your usual daily diet—on which you had maintained your weight for years—just one glass of milk, you would gain about twenty pounds a year provided that your physical activities remained the same."

"If you have lived in a second floor apartment walking upstairs four times a day, and then moved to the first floor, you would save enough calories to gain about four pounds a year provided that your other activities and your food intake remained as before. As such and even greater variations in food intake and physical activity commonly occur in our daily life without being followed by consistent changes in weight, the normal organism must be capable of counteracting such variations in some way—in other words, we must possess a mechanism that automatically compensates changes in food intake and muscular activity."

"What functions and organs operate the mechanism that regulates our weight? First, of course, appetite."

"Another, although much less effective element in body weight regulation manifests itself as our impulse to muscular activity."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp to Dr. Logan Clendenning, 235 E.

FOREIGN MINISTER OF COLOMBIA WILL SEEK CLOSE UNITY

Diplomat Plans Tour of Capitals of South America

By LAWRENCE S. HAAS, Latin American Writer.

Luis Lopez de Mesa, foreign minister of Colombia, has announced that he will begin a series of formal visits this month to the capitals of several South American nations and his projected tour has caused considerable speculation as to what real significance lies behind the trip.

Lopez de Mesa's first projected stop is at Lima, Peru, where he was invited by President Manuel Prado. This visit may well be borne in mind that Peru and Ecuador are engaged in a century-old boundary dispute, and that Peru is now too happy over a joint Argentine-Brazilian-United States intervention which resulted in a treaty.

The three American governments were careful not to take the role of mediators. They merely offered their friendly offices, but there is little doubt that they would like Peru to accept mediation.

Peru Stands Firm

The Peruvian government repeatedly has announced that no mediation is acceptable that would make an issue of Peruvian-held territory, which Ecuador claims. Although the frontier fighting has virtually ceased, the situation remains potentially dangerous and threatens South American peace.

Colombia is a neighbor of both the countries involved in the conflict and Peru and Colombia were in the verge of war several years ago over the Isthmus territorial dispute which was settled by Brazilian mediation.

It is possible that Lopez de Mesa, to converse with the dispute, may have some sort of a formula that would be acceptable to both Peru and Ecuador and the government of President Carlos Arroyo of Rio de Janeiro, leading to a settlement of the controversy.

Further south, Lopez de Mesa will visit Chile, where there has been considerable agitation against Nazi activities in the form of arrests and judicial investigations, but where the extremely large German population is left much to itself.

Then to Buenos Aires

The Colombian cabinet official then will proceed to Buenos Aires to attend ceremonies in which a statue to Gen. Francisco Paula Santander, the great Colombian revolutionary patriot, will be unveiled. Argentina's foreign minister, Dr. Enrique Ruiz Guinazu, invited Lopez de Mesa to attend the unveiling. Ruiz Guinazu made a special trip from New York to Bogota several months ago, before he returned to Buenos Aires from Europe to assume the foreign office portfolio, and was present when the Colombians dedicated a statue in their capital to Gen. Jose San Martin, father of the Argentine republic.

Finally, Lopez de Mesa said, he will visit Rio de Janeiro before he returns home. Although he made no mention of it, it would appear certain that the Colombian foreign minister will pay his respects to the government leaders of Uruguay, as Montevideo lies just across the River Plate from Buenos Aires and is on steamer and air routes to Rio de Janeiro.

Unconventional Fox Hunt Held In Federal Forest

GULFPORT, Miss. — Harrison county residents held a combination roundup-fox hunt to aid the government in its plans to grow more seedling pine trees.

The U. S. Forestry Service ordered that all animals be driven from a large forest section, where they were eating or tramping down the young trees.

Mounted on horses and with dogs more used to baying in pursuit of foxes, more than 100 men rode through the forest, chasing the cattle, hogs and sheep which have run at will through the woods for years. Most were armed with long whips which they cracked over the heads of the scampering animals.

FORT WORTH, Tex. — Texas land, now worth thousands of dollars an acre in mineral producing areas, once was dirt cheap. Ask S. T. Hamilton, Hamilton spoke before a civic club here recently and revealed that the first member of his family to come to Texas traded two oxen for 1,280 acres of land. That was five generations ago.

Presbyterian Church Unii Selects New Name

COLUMBIANA, Sept. 19.—The Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church has chosen a new name for their society for the coming season, to be known as "Comrades of the Way" which will hold the first meeting at the church at 6:30 p. m. Sunday. The president, Miss Marian Esterly will lead the first meeting. At a recent committee meeting plans were made of interesting programs for the winter and all young people of the church are invited.

Mrs. H. J. Harro's was hostess to members of the Wide Awake class of the Grace Reformed church at her home Thursday afternoon. Associate hostess was Mrs. Ashur Halverson. Mrs. Jack McDonald presided at the business meeting. Seventeen members and four guests were present. Lunch was served. Mrs. F. P. Funkhouser and Mrs. Mable Longstreet will be the next hostesses.

Mrs. Carl Hayes of San Diego, Calif., is visiting relatives here.

The last of the season's Ladies golf tournaments will be held at Valley Golf club Wednesday. Dinner will be served at the club house. Entries must be made by Tuesday.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. — Sleepy residents of a Chenango Bridge neighborhood were wrathful. A noisy motorist kept honking his horn at 6:15 A. M. The first person to investigate, however, called the fire department instead of the police. A short-circuit caused the prolonged noise from a car in a garage, but it had also started a fire.

TERROR OUTBREAKS CLAIM 113 LIVES

Bombs and Gunfire, Reprisal Actions This Week Responsible

Trouble in France was not confined to the occupied zone, anti-Communist courts in the Vichy-controlled area continued to grind out prison sentences, and at Mar-sailles one Frenchman was sentenced to death for treason. In Algiers, French Africa, two others were condemned to death on the same charge.

Trouble In East
The Japanese-held Nanking and Canton, China, the 10th anniversary of the Mukden incident which sent the Japanese marching into Manchuria was marked by bomb explosions which killed more than 30 persons, some of them Japanese.
At least 50 persons were injured in the blasts allegedly set off by anti-Japanese agents.

Martial law was declared in Canton and Japanese troops rounded up hundreds of suspects.
In Shanghai, gunnery recently shot and killed two men and seriously wounded two Japanese.
In Berlin five men died under the axe Tuesday, four charged with "preparation for treason," the other with espionage. Those executions in the heart of Nazi land brought the year's total to 29 in Germany.

This week also marked the lifting of a state of civil siege in German-occupied Oslo which was imposed for exactly a week after strike movements had begun to trouble the administration. Two union leaders were executed at the outset of the period and hundreds were arrested, many being sent to concentration camps.

Three Ohio Coal Mines Are Crippled By Strike

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Sept. 19.—
Three of Ohio's largest coal mines stood idle today because of a work holiday by 1,830 miners. They were the Willow Grove, Dun Glen and Piney Fork pits of Hanna Coal Co., all operating on a 24-hour a day basis.
A strike of 36 picking table boys at Willow Grove for pay increases made 680 miners idle Wednesday and last night 575 miners at Dun Glen and 575 at Piney Fork—all ignoring requests of union leaders to remain on the job—walked out in sympathy.
There were no pickets or disturbances about the mines.

LUKENS GOES TO PRISON FOR LIFE

Former Church Janitor Is Convicted of Killing Music Teacher

(By Associated Press)
AKRON, Sept. 19.—Albert B.
Lukens will be taken to Ohio penitentiary next Monday to begin serving a life sentence for the slaying of 24-year-old Ruth Zwicker, the music teacher whose body was cremated last Easter morning in a furnace at the North Hill Methodist church.
The former church janitor, 38, was convicted yesterday by a jury of nine men and three women, who after nearly 29 hours of deliberation found him guilty of first degree murder, with a recommendation of mercy.
E. Guy Hammond, Lukens' counsel, said his client "does not feel justice has been done, but feels rather that he has been the victim of extraordinary circumstances."
He signified his intention of appealing the case.

Father Disappointed
The dead woman's father, Arthur M. Zwicker, expressed disappointment at the verdict. "I think he should be sentenced to the chair," he said.
Miss Zwicker had gone to the church for piano practice the day before Easter Sunday. When she did not return, her father began searching for her. He testified during the trial that Lukens helped him look through the many rooms of the church. A short time later detectives found charred human remains in ashes removed from one of the church furnaces, and Lukens was arrested.

The defendant made two statements, each time contending that he had asked Miss Zwicker for a kiss, and that she fell against the piano, her death resulting from a head injury. He was indicted for first degree murder and on June 28 detectives announced a "third confession" quoting him as admitting that he choked the young woman.
He was re-indicted on a charge of first degree murder with intent to commit rape.
Lukens testified he was beaten before giving the third statement, but the detectives denied his charges.
In his testimony the church janitor claimed his original account of the death was correct. He admitted cremating the body, declaring that he feared an investigation.

School Bus Driver Hit By Infantile Paralysis

RAVENNA, Sept. 19.—The county health department quarantined 20 pupils who were riding in the Deerfield township school bus after its driver, Glen McDowd, 22, was stricken with infantile paralysis and rushed to Cleveland city hospital.

truck south of Marion. Her husband was hurt seriously.

REPORT GERMAN TROOPS IN KIEV

Hitler's High Command Reports That Large Russian City Is Taken

ing in the first two months of the war.
British estimates yesterday said the Russians had lost 3,000,000 men and the Germans 2,000,000.
Authoritative London quarters, acknowledging that the loss of coal and oil fields, steel plants and other war industries in the Ukraine had dealt a sore blow to the Russians, declared nevertheless that the U. S. S. R. could maintain a large army in the field even if the Germans overran the Donets industrial basin and took Kharkov.
See Other Supply Sources
Alternative sources of supply, it was said, would prevent a Russian collapse.

On the northern front, Finnish army observers less than 10 miles from Kronstadt said thick smoke enveloped the island's batteries before they ceased firing.

Both Germany and Russia were affected by international incidents growing out of the war.

Japan was reported by Koh Ishii, Tokyo government spokesman, to have protested the Soviet embassy for a second time against floating Russian mines in the Sea of Japan as menaces to navigation.

Two vessels—a Korean sailing ship and a Japanese fishing boat—were declared to have been sunk by the mines with a loss of 13 lives. A mine field protects Vladivostok, Russian far eastern port to which United States supplies are moving, on the Sea of Japan.

Small RAF and Luftwaffe forces crossed the channel in overnight attacks, British sources said. British bombers attacked the docks at Le Havre, in German-occupied France, they reported, and German bombs which caused little damage fell in South Wales and East Anglia.

The British air ministry said British planes sank two German minesweepers and two anti-aircraft ships and damaged four other vessels yesterday off the Netherlands and Belgian coasts.

Leetonia Girls Named As School Cheerleaders

LEETONIA, Sept. 19.—The student body of Leetonia High school has chosen three cheerleaders—
Mary Ruth Riddle, Margaret Kovack and Shirley DeJane.
From the group seeking cheerleader places, two will be selected for each football game to assist the regular cheerleaders.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rudebeck,
Jr., are the parents of a son born Wednesday at their home, south of Leetonia. Mrs. Rudebeck will be remembered as Miss Eunice Jones.
Ladies Aid society of St. Paul's Lutheran church met at the home of Mrs. Edith Reich, Thursday.
Mrs. Walter Barnes was taken to the Central Clinic Wednesday.
J. E. Waddell, south of town, is at the Central Clinic for medical treatment.

Bombs Explode In Front Of Ambassador's Quarters

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 19.—Two small bombs were thrown today in front of the fashionable embassy residence of German Ambassador Edmund Von Thermann during a hostile demonstration.
Von Thermann has been the object of a congressional attack which reached a virtual demand for his expulsion from Argentina for alleged abuse of his diplomatic privileges.
No damage was done the build-
bomb thrown by demonstrators.

Treasure Hunt

AURORA, Ind.—An accident to a mail pouch started a treasure hunt along the Baltimore and Ohio railroad track.

The pouch, carrying an estimated $5,000 in bills and silver sent by registered mail to Switzerland county banks, was thrown off at the station.

It bounced back onto the track and was cut to pieces, and the money was scattered along more than a mile of the right-of-way.

Townpeople went out with baskets and scooped up the riches. One man got $323. But the finders feared they wouldn't get to keep the money. A postal inspector was sent from Cincinnati to investigate.

Approves Reservoirs

CINCINNATI, Sept. 19.—U. S.
Army engineers report that additional flood control reservoirs in the Hocking river valley would bring benefits insufficient to justify the costs, Col. Charles L. Hall, division engineer, announced.

ROOSEVELT SHUNS ARMY DEFENSE PLAN

President Would Rather Keep Industry Control
In Civilian Hands

The military faction denied any ambitions to control industry. The "New Dealers," they charged, were chiefly interested in placing their protégés in the organization and utilize the emergency opportunity to experiment with "reforms."
Unchallenged facts in the controversy are:
After issuing a proclamation setting up the export control administration the President, on July 2, 1940, issued a military order as commander-in-chief which stated that control of exports was essentially a military function, and designated Maxwell as administrator of export control.

On Sept. 15, the President, reversing his position that export control was essentially a military function, transferred the export control administration's functions to the economic defense board as a branch of that organization.

As the official reason for the change, Vice President Wallace announced that the powers of the office of export control will be more closely ingrained into the broader work of the economic defense board.

A lusty, colorful adventure novel of a group of American pioneers is brought to the screen with the filming of "Wild Geese Calling," Stewart Edward White's popular novel. The picture, featuring Joan Bennett and Henry Fonda, shows at the State theater Friday and Saturday.

Showing at the Grand theater tonight and Saturday are two westerns: "Law of the Range" with John Mack Brown, and "Hands Across the Rockies" with Bill Elliott.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

They drove the next day past cotton fields that were clouds of blossoms, peach orchards heavy with fruit, golden tassels, through Georgia. Negroes called greetings, and sang, in the fields. Nicky gave a show late in the afternoon in a mill town, with the chirp of bobbins in the air. Pinched, gray looking, old-eyed youngsters watched with solemnity that tore at the heart.

Driving on toward Savannah that night, with the lights of Nicky's car glowing brightly behind, Chris came to another decision.

He was going into business. He was going to build trailers, Allen trailers — the Bishop name never occurred to him. He would incorporate in them the devices he had designed. He would give employment to men and women — but mostly men, men working at decent wages who could take care of wives and kids and have nice little houses such as he'd seen in the many towns through which he'd traveled.

Late that night, they pulled into Savannah where the fair opened the next afternoon. Aloysius Bring expected to meet them there, and Chris was almost thankful. He suddenly didn't want to be alone with Nicky. There was a strangeness between them, a disturbing awareness, that broke into silence or Nicky's chatter. After Tampa, he could take his chances, but not now.... There was too much to explain.

The camp was modern and very crowded before they had pulled into their allotted parking spaces, a dozen folks were waiting for them. Friends they had made on the road. A one-armed sign painter and his wife, from Memphis, a former state representative from Wisconsin, and his wife, two elderly sisters from Massachusetts who cast horoscopes and sold books on astrology, and Ed Curtis, the ex-postman.

The little old fellow grinned shyly as he took Chris's outstretched hand. "I swear I didn't know your outfit," he murmured admiringly, as he walked on. "I've heard you were here."

"But it is," cried Nicky gaily. "And where's Ma? And what are you doing in Georgia now?"

"I think you two are right sweet to treat me this way," he glanced nervously at Chris. "You know Ma didn't have much faith in you. She thought you were the slippery kind."

"He's just a solid citizen in disguise," Nicky laughed, tucking her arm through the old man's. "And the best get-out-of-ditches you ever saw."

"My word, you look pretty!" Curtis beamed at Nicky. "But come along and see Ma. We're only stopping a short time. She took a notion to make some butter out of Georgia peaches right off the trees. When she gets another dozen, put up, we're going along to Virginia for the yellow tomato crop."

Chris, watching the trailers for the night, watched Curtis and Nicky go down the avenue of hobbled houses. Three-quarters of those trailers were occupied by men like Ed Curtis—middle-aged and elderly men on pensions, truly having a golden sunset to their lives because of a little security. They never made a lot. They never really wanted a lot. But they had enough. All of them were happier, he was sure, than his father had ever been.

Happiness! He really had never heard much about it until he took the road. Happiness implied emotion and the Bishops were never emotional. They were correct, but cold—deliberately cold.

Chris was smoking his pipe on the steps of Nemesis when Nicky returned from her visit with the Curtis.

"Ma Curtis is all over with apologies. She never dreamed you'd turn up so well."

"So far so good," she admitted. "Let's go walking. You can feel this is an old town."

It was an old town, an enchanting town. There was a modern section, too, with tall buildings, smart shops and bright lights, but they avoided those. They found, instead, exquisite gardens, and old streets that might have come from Old World towns; houses with overhanging balconies, courts with fountains....

There was a curiosity shop where Chris bought Nicky a mackerel with a carved handle — a lean, wicked looking instrument. They wandered along the docks fragrant with the sea and the clang of turpentine and the warmth of a near-tropic night. Then they lingered to watch a mammoth moon rise.

"You don't suppose this is all really so, do you?" Nicky asked breathlessly. Her shoulder touching Chris's arm was soft and vibrant and fearfully alive. "If I shut my eyes, will it vanish?"

"Don't shut your eyes," he said swiftly. He couldn't bear it — the sight of the downward sweep of lashes on her cheeks.

Then she remarked, "You know, for the past month, it's been sort of a dream when I awake, our life, a kind of a little Paradise — on wheels."

"Have you been that happy?"

"Yes."

He thought she must hear the pounding of his heart through the stillness of the night. It was shutting out all other sound to him, making even his voice distant and husky. "Nicky!"

"Yes?" A smiled, expectant yes.

"In five more days we'll be in Tampa.... our last engagement!" She nodded. Her head very close to his shoulder. For a second he rested his cheek against her head, his arm tightened about her, he didn't really—he didn't want to bother her with words. If he kissed her now, no words would be necessary. He couldn't—he mustn't—not until he could tell her who he was.

"And then what?" Nicky prompted softly.

"I've got to go back to New York for a few days," he declared.

"Oh," she said, with her faculty for making one small sound equal a dictionary. "Let's find that little coffee shop we noticed."

She was away from him—not only out of his arms, but far away, in that remote little shell that could be his. She whispered softly and slid her hands into the pockets of her slacks. With all his heart he wanted to cry out, to call her back, to recapture the moment he had lost. What if he never found it again?

The camp was quiet when they got back—as silent as when they had waited until I finish a cigarette," Chris asked. That last smoke had become a rite.

"Not tonight," Nicky said wearily. "We've covered a lot of ground today." She turned away from his quick glance. "Don't you want me to help you with your bed?"

"Thanks," he murmured, opening the door of the Arab. Quickly and silently they pulled the levers that lowered the beds. Before Chris could get to his feet, Nicky, with a swift good night, was gone.

Chris came out in time to see her disappear into Nemesis, and to catch the glimmer of a figure, dodging around the opposite side of the trailer—a thick-set figure of a man, with feet in white shoes like canvas-covered flatirons. There was only one pair of flat feet like that in the world.

Instantly Chris was after him. If this was Washington Bedloe as he hoped....

An alley was formed between the rear of the parked trailers and a high wire fence covered with a tangle of jasmine and vines that were strangers to Chris. Down this dim passage tore the sprinter in the white shoes. Overhanging trees, dripping with moss, added to the difficulty of going.

Chris hurried along roots curled like black snakes in his way while whipping aside offending vines and swaying moss. The path seemed an endless line of all the trailers in the United States.

But the end was the intruder's.

undoing. The mossy ground was soft and slippery. In making a fast turn, he skidded, lurched into the stockade and bounced to the side of the nearest trailer to be caught by Chris on the rebound.

Bishop's powerful hand was strengthened by a month of hard labor and a spirit of high anger. His fingers dug a firm hold into the fat and muscle at the back of the fugitive's neck and, over his panting protests, dragged him into the camp street and the light.

"Wattsa big idea? Wattsa big idea!" Bedloe bellowed.

"What were you doing around those trailers?" Chris demanded, throwing him against the stockade.

"I wasn't around anybody's trailer. I was just passing by."

"You didn't pass fast enough, Bedloe. I don't like your face and I don't like your habits."

"G—getting tough, are you?"

"I most certainly am. I'm on to your game now. Just a private dick, huh? A snooper!"

"What are you going to do about it?"

Chris shot his fist into the detective's jaw, and the latter swarmed at him head down, knuckles flying. Soon a hard right cross to Bedloe's chin sent him spinning through the rear gate of the camp enclosure into the wooded lot beyond, with Chris following in fistic fury.

"Add this—and this—to your report," Chris gasped implacably, while planting punch after punch with fair accuracy. "Tell whoever hired you—to come down and—get some of this, too!"

"Stop! You're crazy!" panted Bedloe. "You don't know—what you're doing!"

But it soon required all of Bedloe's wind to retreat from Bishop's blows. At last the detective took to the woods.

Chris watched him go, his white shoes a blur in the darkness. With satisfaction, he rubbed his bruised knuckles and cheeks. Then he strode back to the Arab, while musing: let him report to Rodney Badington Grant, tell him to come and get his share of un-Bishop-like wrath!

Nicky lay in her bunk, squinting her eyes against the morning sun streaming through Nemesis' heavily screened window. From where she lay she could see the canvas and frame edge of the Arab against a background of tall trees hanging with moss. The air was heavy with jasmine and magnolia, combined with a strange, pungent odor of collected or gasoline, burning oil and coffee, the essence of the trailer camp, the note of continuity, that made one feel at home in any section of the country.

Morning sounds buzzed outside her window, but she was in no hurry to rise. Why should she? There was nothing to do until the show at two o'clock.

Of course, there usually was breakfast with Chris and an exploration of the town.... any town or village where they happened to be. Here they were in a great old city, but neither exploring, nor breakfast, nor anything seemed very worth while.

Chris was going back to New York. Why did it give her such an awful feeling? She'd left people before. People had left her. That was it, perhaps. All that going and coming wasn't good. Nothing lasted. Maybe she was a baby to expect things to last.

She had no right to be cross with Chris. He'd been, as Mr. Curtis said in amazement, "a gentleman all this time." Every day of it. No promises, no love making except a kiss occasionally.

That day Aloysius Bring probably would catch up with them, and there would be letters from Rodney Grant at the post-office. Savannah was on their mailing route. She didn't want to see Aloysius and, as for Rodney, she wished she never had to hear his name again. Abruptly she rolled over and hid her face in the pillow....

It was Aloysius Bring's voice, in its best classroom tone, rolling along in monologue, that finally aroused her. What could he have to say at such length to Chris unless he were delivering a dissertation on butterflies?

Chris was astir very early that morning. He awoke in a pugnacious frame of mind and, finding Bring on the steps of the Arab, added nothing in the way of good humor. As usual, Aloysius was spotlessly turned out. Though there was nothing in his appearance to merit the comment, Chris asked rudely: "Have you been up all night?"

"Mercy, no!" Bring was offended. "I'm stopping at a little hotel here in town, had a very good rest, but I rose early purposely to talk to you."

"To me? Before breakfast?"

"It seemed the only time, as I have observed that you usually are about before Nicky appears."

All Is Chaos

PHILADELPHIA — Even the animal world reacted to the dazzling display of the northern lights. Zoo Watchman Bert Shipley reporting plaintively:

"They all started bolting for food. There are no lights around here at night, of course. When this thing started, the animals thought it was feeding time. The buffalo, deer, goats and other outside ones were the worst but even those in the buildings got to yelling, too."

Financial Stress Found To Be Hardest When Youth Attends College

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Family financial worries are greatest between the 25th and 30th year of married life when sons and daughters enroll in college, according to a University of Illinois survey. The College of Agriculture, after examining the home accounts of 473 farm families, found numerous expenditures were added during that period. Son and daughter continue to need money from home. Clothing and food expenses stay at a high level. Long time borrowings made when father was young come due. And youthful demands for a more attractive home require major housing improvements.

Debts Pile Up
“These few years are going to mean a tight squeeze unless financial planning is started early to prevent mortgages and other debts from coming due at the peak period of expense,” the survey advised.

A breakdown of family expenses for each five years of married life showed that during the first five years, food, automobile, shelter, operating costs and clothing take most of the young husband's pay check. Savings may also be fairly large.

As the family grew and became more settled during the next five years, all expenses except automobile increase. More money is spent on home furnishings and savings, including life insurance, increase.

Housing Costs Rise
When the couple have been married 10 to 15 years, automobile, shelter, operating costs go down slightly. While savings decreases, major housing improvements increase.

In the following five years, savings loom increasingly large,” the survey said, “and investments and principal payments on notes take a large amount of the family budget. Thus by the start of the 25-30 year marriage period, the family has built up a multitude of demands on the family purse. In the years following this period of heavy drain, all of the major items of expense for living decrease rapidly, although savings still take a large amount of money to provide an income for old age.”

Takeoff of Big Bomber Doesn't Fit Movie Idea

(By United Press)
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—In the movies the pilot straps on his headgear, runs to a four-motored bomber and is away—all in the twinkling of an eye. Officials of the 5th Air Base in Salt Lake City revealed the steps actually necessary before one of the flying fortresses can leave the ground. There is a good deal of difference between fact and fancy. First, the pilot consults the day's flight schedule. Then he visits the flight operations office, where he confers with meteorologists. Next, he must check another board to make sure his plane has been fueled and oiled. Then he visits operation again to confirm his flight time. And that isn't all. Once in the plane, the pilot communicates by radio with the control tower and is assigned a runway. He must wait his turn for the takeoff. When he finally gets a go-ahead, he roars away—off at last, after at least seven detailed preparatory steps.

Big Day for the Morgenthau

Among the U. S. naval reserve graduates in New York is R. M. Morgenthau, son of the Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., who is seen, left, at the ceremonies. At the right is the secretary's father, Henry Morgenthau, Sr., who once served as ambassador to Turkey.

Patriot

UPPER DARBY, Pa. — “I don't know what to do with it,” declared 13-year-old Joe Girard upon finding a $3 bill. “Somebody must've lost it.” Police Desk Sergeant Phil Watts was baffled, too. “I got no report of a loss,” he said. “I can't take it.” Across the street walked Joe to the postoffice. He laid the bill on the clerk's desk. “Defense stamps, please.”

War Department Discloses Plans For Army's First Air-Borne Infantry Unit

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Plans for organization of the Army's first air-borne infantry battalion, which will be equipped with small automobiles, motorcycles, and bicycles, were announced today by the War Department following months of experimental work.

The new battalion will be organized at Fort Benning, Ga., Oct. 15 with an initial strength of 500 volunteers, including 50 from Fort Bragg, N. C., and 450 from Camps Croft, S. C., and Wheeler, Ga.

Disclosure of the plans came at a press conference held by Secretary of War Stimson at which it also was announced that hereafter officers of National Guard units may be assigned to non-National Guard outfits whenever it is desirable.

This step was regarded as one of the most far-reaching yet taken toward merging National Guard organizations completely into the broader structure of the Army. It means that regular and reserve officers will be assigned to command guard troops as well as that guard officers may command other troops.

Another announced change affecting the guard was that guard enlisted men returned home in keeping with the Army's intention of releasing as many as possible in the next few months would be carried on the rosters of their state detachments so that they would not become subject to the draft even though of draft age.

The War department also announced a change in policy for officer candidate schools whereby 650 of the 2,600 enlisted men enlisted men who will take three months' courses beginning in October will be selected of four months' service, coming from replacement training centers where they have been held as instructors.

Over-Alert Soldier

WITH THE THIRD ARMY — A new member of the military police captured six “enemy” soldiers during a recent battle in the south's war maneuvers.

It was his first capture and he was proud. So he loaded them into a taxicab and took them to the command post 15 miles away at his expense. There he found that the battle was over and all prisoners had been set free.

DELAWARE — Ohio Wesleyan University selected the wrong “typical” students when preparing a picture booklet on the university. The photos were taken last spring. The front cover of the booklet shows a girl who has since “flunked out” of school and a boy who has transferred to Case College, Cleveland.

FELLER WINS 24TH TO END SOX STREAK

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19.—The Indians came home today just as they had left—at the bottom of the first division.
Bob Feller brought the Tribe's 15-game eastern trip to a close yesterday with his 24th conquest as against 12 losses, by beating the Boston Red Sox 6 to 1, snapping their winning streak at eight.
That made six victories for the team, and lifted Cleveland out of its one-day stay in fifth place.
Tomorrow they open a four-game series with Luke Sewell's St. Louis Browns, playing a double-header Sunday, and then depart for a final western tour of Chicago and St. Louis.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—As soon as that ruckus in Pittsburgh yesterday calmed down a bit, Secretary John McDonald of the Dodgers phoned a report to boss Larry MacPhail. At this end of the line, Larry was overheard demanding:

"You called long distance to tell me that Magerkurth is a blanketed thug?" I knew that all the time. The Dodgers just couldn't wait to get back to the eastern half of the league. They took a special train to Philadelphia to spend an off day. Middle western papers report that Bill McKechnie gave a demonstration of his ability as a chef the other day and cooked a dozen squirrels. Could that be a backhanded slap at the way Bill's reds treated our bums? ...

Today's Guest Star
Jack Singer, New York Journal-American: "Bill Terry notified the press that Burgess Whitehead, who is suffering from a torn ligament in his shoulder, would remain with the Giants in the capacity of a pinch runner. Terry apparently is working on the mistaken theory that the Giants are going to get a runner on base."

Odds, And Some Ends

Note for the future book: Bernie Bierman's son is playing some swell prep school football and likely will be seen in a Gopher uniform before very many seasons. And Charlie Bachman, Jr., eldest son of the Michigan State coach, is a six-foot-three end on the East Lansing High school team. Correction: Harry Todd's brother Tom says our report that Harry was ready to quit competitive golf was all wrong. Harry and Tom will be in business together, all right, but Harry will get time off to make all the major tournaments. Lou Nova has received an invitation from Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox to take part in a special broadcast for service men next Monday.

Short Short Story

When Ted Williams was at the dinner in honor of Uncle Jim O'Leary at Boston the other night, he heard the 80-year-old baseball writer say to Will Harridge, "Hello, Bill." Williams laughed and remarked: "I guess you have to reach your 80th birthday before you can say 'hello Bill' to the president of the American League."

HALIFAX, N. S.—The war has opened a new market for Irish moss, found along the shores of the Maritime provinces. One American importing firm has sent a representative to the Maritimes to bid for the supplies which before the war had been imported from France.

Salem High Gridders Open 1941 Season Here Tonight

SONS OF LISBON STARS WILL PLAY FOOTBALL TONIGHT

High School Gridders Will Attempt To Follow Fathers' Records

LISBON, Sept. 19.—When Lisbon High kicks the lid off its 1941 gridiron campaign at Columbiana Saturday afternoon, Coach "Red" Vanaman will have three men in the starting lineup who should recall memories to the "old timers" of past glories on the gridiron.

Starting at the quarterback post when the Blue Devils clash with the Columbiana High eleven, will be "Art" Evans, Jr., son of one of Lisbon's immortal gridiron heroes who was said to have been the hardest man to stop of any ever to carry the pigskin for Lisbon.

The other two will revive memories, are Furman and Don Dillard, son of "Bud" Dillard, colored speedster who cavorted in cleats for Lisbon. Furman will be starting at the fullback post while Don will be right end. Both are fast and will bear plenty of watching this season.

Completing an entirely new backfield which is starting tomorrow, Coach Vanaman has selected Ray Baker and Dave Eason a couple of speedy, shifty halfbacks.

The nucleus behind which Vanaman is building this year's machine, is found in four lettermen on the line, who should prove a boon to any backfield. They are Tom Fife, left end; Alex Silage, left tackle; Ralph McDevitt, center, and Bernard Kauffman, right tackle. The guard posts will be filled by Russell Northrup and Dave Burrell, both of whom have seen service and proved themselves capable over a field of candidates.

The starting lineup:
Name No. Pos.
Tom Fife 61 LE
Alex Silage 60 LT
Dave Burrell 62 LG
Ralph McDevitt 64 C

Ray Baker 56 LH
Dave Eason 58 RH
Furman Dillard 54 FB

'Can't Make A Travesty of This Ball Game,' Said Umpire: 'Just Watch!' Said Dodgers

BY JUDSON BAILEY

(By Associated Press)

If the Brooklyn Dodgers don't win the National league baseball championship maybe they will go after Joe Louis' heavyweight boxing crown.

They took their minds off baseball long enough yesterday to lose a critical game to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-5, and they also lost their preliminary venture into the heavyweight class to Umpire George Magerkurth, a man mountain weighing about 225 pounds and 6 feet 4 inches tall.

But the fates which protect little children—and the Dodgers—saw them through their hours of travail once again by bringing the Boston Braves a 4-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. This kept Brooklyn in front by one game with the standings:

Club	Won	Lost	Games
Brooklyn	93	52	9
St. Louis	91	52	10

The rumpus at Pittsburgh was one of those wild sideshows for which the delirious Dodgers have become famous. The game was tense all the way, with the Pirates hoping on Fred Fitzsimmons, their old nemesis, for four runs in the fourth, and Johnny Lanning holding to two singles through seven scoreless innings.

There was a rumbling of trouble in the seventh when Larry French, who had relieved Fitz, hit Frank Gustine with a pitch and Gustine threw his bat at the pitcher. But the volcano really erupted in the eighth.

The Dodgers dug up five runs in a breath-taking rally after two were out, and then set out to hold their 3-4 lead.

Luke (Hot Potato) Hamlin went to the mound and gave a single to the first batter, Vince DiMaggio, who reached second as Joe Medwick tumbled. Big, chubby Hugh Casey was rushed in and got the next two men out, with DiMaggio moving to third. He also got two strikes on Al Lopez. Then he balked and Umpire Magerkurth waved DiMaggio home with the tying run. There was a mass protest by the Dodgers which lasted for five minutes, then subsided.

Casey was infuriated, however, and threw the next three balls over the heads of Magerkurth, Lopez and his own catcher, Micky Owen. Magerkurth went to the mound and told him, "You can't make a travesty of this ball game."

Durocher is "Bitter"

Durocher rushed between the two, shoved Casey out of the way and stormed at Magerkurth in language that the umpire later modestly termed "bitter." Finally Magerkurth ordered the manager out of the game. Casey walked Lopez. Alf Anderson tripled and a potential Brooklyn victory flew through the pearly gates.

The feud with Magerkurth continued under the stands after the game until tough little Bill Stewart broke up the wrangling. Durocher broke up some chairs and odds and ends after he got to the dressing room, too, but this didn't do the Dodgers any good.

What did do them some good was Boston's beating the Cards.

In yesterday's other games, the Cincinnati Reds swept their second straight doubleheader from the Phillies, 5-0 and 9-2. The Cubs took fifth place away from the New York Giants by beating them, 7-1.

Bob Feller acquired his 24th victory with an eight-hit pitching job that led Cleveland to a 6-1 triumph over the Boston Red Sox. The Washington Senators repulsed the St. Louis Browns, 9-8.

New Salem Football Coach Will Present Team Tonight

Ray Overturf, who shows his first Salem football team tonight, is 37 years old, married, a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university and a two-year All-Ohio College center.

For the past four years he has been head football and basketball coach at Geneva High school where his teams hung up enviable records. Geneva is a member of the Lake Shore league which includes such Class A schools as Painesville, Ashtabula, Fairport Harbor, Willoughby, Conneaut, and Ashtabula Harbor.

The new mentor was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan in 1936.

His own personal football history started at North High school in Columbus where he played for three years. At Ohio Wesleyan he made the Freshman team his first year and started on the varsity the ensuing three years. He was recognized by sports writers as an All-Ohio center in 1934 and again in 1935. During his Senior year he served as co-captain of the Ohio Wesleyan squad.

Overturf's activities were not confined solely to football. During his Sophomore and Junior years in college he held the boxing championship. He was wrestling champion for four years.

Upon his graduation from Ohio Wesleyan, he received offers to play professional football with the Cleveland Rams, the Pittsburgh

Coach Overturf

Steelers, the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Shamrocks. He gave the proposals serious consideration but decided that he wanted to coach High school football.

In addition, Overturf is a baseball and swimming enthusiast, participating in the former sport during college days.

Light Columbiana Team Set To Play

COLUMBIANA, Sept. 19.—The Columbiana High school Clippers open the 1942 season Saturday afternoon at Firststone park stadium, meeting Lisbon in a Tri-County league game, with only two veterans in the starting line-up.

These are Tom Gorcheff and Patchen, who finished the 1941 season at the end positions. Last year's Lisbon game ended in a 6-6 tie.

The new coach, Robert Payne, former Ohio Northern university star, has announced his starting lineup as follows:

Ends, T. Gorcheff and Frye; tackles, Patchen and Echarde; guards, Gustafson and Messersmith; center, Chaddock; quarterback, Bell; halfbacks, White and Albert Gorcheff; fullback, Rohrer. His second team lineup is listed:

Ends, Grimes and Dickinson; tackles, Robert Segesman and Gossney; guards, Grant and Earl Kysar; center, Joe Case; quarterback, Evans, halfbacks, Keith Laughlin and Lipe; fullback, Harry Case.

The starting team averages less than 140 pounds, and the second string is considerably lighter. Coach Payne has promised a fighting team, one versed in blocking and tackling, the weak points of recent teams, and hopes to better last year's mark of one victory, one tie and six defeats.

The school band, directed by Clair King, has been drilling daily in marching tactics and local fans will note the many new faces to replace those lost by graduation. The Lisbon High band is also expected to perform at the game.

'Battle Of Unknowns' Opens At 7:45 Against Salineville; Play Madison Second Half

A light, fast Salem High football team will take the field tonight against Salineville and Madison High schools as the 1941 Ohio Scholastic football program gets under way.

Salineville High will play the first half and Madison the second, with each half counting as a separate game for the Salem gridders. Kick-off time is 7:45. Reilly field is the place, with Bruce Hamm of Struthers as referee. Sim Erich of Warren is umpire and George Porter of Lisbon is head linesman.

A squad of 27 Salineville and 25 Madison gridders will make the trip to Salem. Neither school will bring a band but the Salem "tuba tooters" will be on hand at the game after a march through the business district.

The Salem football team is expected to show a steady ground-gaining ability and a well-developed aerial attack.

The fray, however, is a battle of unknowns. Salem presents a new coach, and plays two teams never before listed on the Salem schedule. Advance dope is necessarily in the nature of a prediction.

The following facts are known: Both Salineville and Madison have light teams; Madison favors an aerial attack and bases her hopes on the eight lettermen in her starting lineup.

The Salem line averages 168 pounds, the backfield 155 pounds, and the team possesses seven lettermen.

Four Salem lettermen are available for the backfield but probably only two of them will be on the field when the starting whistles blow. Phil Cozad, a varsity player from last year who has been shifted to the left halfback slot, will play only a portion of tonight's game because of injuries sustained in practice, while Bob Scullion will give way in the fullback position to fast, small, promising Dick Greene, 130-pound Sophomore who looms as a potentially powerful pigskin tosser.

Carmen "Toots" Nocera, another Sophomore, will take the field at right half. Nocera, who weighs 160 pounds, is a shifty ball carrier who has consistently found holes in the line in Salem scrimmage sessions.

Johnny Velio, 160-pound Senior letterman, will start the game at his third year at quarterback. Velio is an aggressive ball carrier and a consistently good tackler.

"Tut" Guappone, at center, "Pinky" King, at left end, and Ken at the opposite post and Bob Ruffing at right tackle are expected to be line stalwarts. All are Sophomores and Seniors.

Gordon Shasteen, a fighting line guard, will carry into the starting lineup the spunk and grit that has characterized his play in practice sessions.

Boughton, a 155 pound Senior who plays right guard, and Thomas, a 180 pound junior at right tackle, complete the starting lineup.

Forest Fire Fighters Use "One Lick" Method Now

PORTERVILLE, Cal.—Norman L. Norris, Sequoia national park supervisor, reveals that park rangers and CCC foremen are training crews in new methods of forest fire line construction.

Norris says the new fire fighting system is similar to the specialized, coordinated tactics of modern military units and is known as the "one lick" method. The fire fighting crew acts as a unit, keeping a few paces apart, each member of the crew taking one stroke with his axe or shovel and then moving on against the fire.

The "one lick" method would make possible a progressive, constant movement forward, with the last man of the fire crew completing the width of the fire line, Norris says. He says the new system is "very efficient."

GORHAM, N. Y.—Twenty-three Indian graves were uncovered during grading operations at the Gorham Central school. The bones were well preserved in most cases, although they apparently were buried 600 to 800 years ago during the early Algonquin period, according to archaeologists.

Can Hardly Believe T
Relief TON JON

Says That For 15 Years She Had to Take Laxatives Every Day. Stomach Disorder Caused Much Misery and Gas Caused Heart to Flutter Which Sometimes Seemed As Though It Stopped Beating.

"I was just one of the many who was troubled with constipation before taking TON JON," declared Mrs. John McCorkle, 210 Monroe, Warren, Ohio.

"I had an extremely stubborn case of constipation and every day for 15 years I had to take 2 laxatives but still my condition didn't improve. At times I would become exceedingly dizzy and spots would form before my eyes. Bad headaches bothered me very often and I became so nervous that I couldn't sleep at night.

"My stomach was in a distressed condition and I had very little appetite. My food never properly digested and gas formed so excessively in my stomach that it crowded my heart making it flutter and sometimes it seemed to stop beating. There was always a bad taste in my mouth and my breath was unusually offensive. All my joints ached and especially my knees which made it difficult for me to walk.

"TON JON has brought me such

We wish to call your attention to the fact that TON JON is not just one medicine but three different ones called TON JON 1-2-3. The TON JON Health Representative awaits the courtesy of talking to you about them at Broadway Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio.—Adv.
